Navarathi Mahotsav: It is the tradition in the South to worship all the three Shaktis during this season. The houses have decorations and exhibits of dolls, curios and visual art pieces. The hosts entertain evening visits by local community, relatives and friends who come to see the artworks and sing devotional songs. In turn they are offered different kind of snacks. Often children come in costumes. The ninth day is dedicated for Saraswathi puja with books, musical instruments and tools kept in puja. We are conducting this devotional songs program on the ninth day to celebrate our tradition.
