

BHARATIYA TEMPLE

1612 County Line Road, Montgomeryville, PA 18936

Gangaur Puja - Festival of Rajasthan

Gangaur is one of the most important festivals in Rajasthan, held each spring in honor of Gauri or goddess Parvati, wife of Lord Shiva. She is the symbol of virtue and fidelity and as such is the mythological role model of married women. In Hindu mythology, Gauri is generally the unmarried goddess Parvati, before she married Lord Shiva. She underwent extreme penances and purifications in order to attain the glory of marrying the ascetic and emotionally invulnerable god.

This is also an auspicious day for young people to select their life partners. Girls dress up in their finest clothes and pray for a spouse of their choice, while married women do the same for the happiness and long life of their husbands.

Saturday, 17th March 2007

Gangaur Puja 3:30 PM
Dances & Prasad 5:30 PM

For direction and additional information please contact:

<http://www.b-temple.org/>

Dr. Ravi Murarka	215-661-1292	Raj Dadhich	215-362-5684
Shashi Todi	215-699-0406	Neeta Gupta	215-542-0539
Umesh Tambi	610-265-9064	T. Sarda	215-674-9573
Yashoda Rathod	215-641-0195	Padmaben Patel	215-362-7418
Rita Sheth	215-540-0979	Sanjivan Soni	215-540-0979

